

Tell me I can't and I'll show you I can.

Some people say I shouldn't think about going to college because of my disability.

Some people say that I can't make good choices that I need to do what they think.

Some people say that I shouldn't think of a career because of my disability that I should be happy with any job.

What do I say? Tell me I can't and I'll show you I can.
